Muay Thai Fast Facts

The dance performed before each match is called the Ram Muay. This a sacred ritual for Muay Thai fighters. It pays respect to the art and their teacher as well as getting the fighter ready physically and mentally for battle. It is considered polite to be quiet during the Ram Muay.

In Bangkok every week one fighter is awarded $1500 for the best Ram Muay performance.

Muay Thai is the national sport of Thailand and is bigger in Thailand than baseball and football are in America

When a really good kick is thrown Thai people shout "OI". When a really good knee is thrown Thai people shout "TANG"

It took over 100 People to produce BIB3. The IML would sincerely like to thank all of these volunteers and friends who gave selflessly to make this happen. They thought about the art of Muay Thai first and themselves second. They have our gratitude.
